ready to agree.

John Fisher, the editor of Harper's Magazine, takes a perceptive look this month at an important American mystery.

Why is it, he asks, that our conservatives are singularly unable to express themselves - to develop a lucid, coherent body of doctrine?

America once had conservatives such as Webster and Theodore Roosevelt who knew what they believed and could explain it with wit and eloquence. England has such a contemporary figure in Winston Churchill. But in America the archetype was Silent Cal Coolidge, who made muteness his trademark. He was followed by Herbert Hoover, hardly noted as an articulate man. Popular though he is, President Eisenhower has failed to state his beliefs in a way that people can remember and quote five minutes after he has finished speaking. (Can you define "Dynamic Conservatism"?)

In the magazine field, Fisher argues that: "Nowhere in America is there any organ comparable to the London Economist which argues the conservative position, week after week, with style, logic, resopnsibility, a wealth of documented fact, and a solid philosophic underpinning."

In the book field he says the handicap of "intellectual laryngitis" afflicting the conservatives of both the Republican and Democratic parties are up against an articulate - not to say - garrulous opposition. Within the last few months books have appeared from the typewriters of Truman, Stevenson, Acheson and Bowles. But books by Republicans and Democrats of the stamp of Byrd and Russell - are scarcer than Gutenberg Bibles."

A Hot Race (St. Louis Globe-Democrat, St. Louis, Mo.)

Two hard-hitting heavyweights have entered the lists for the Oregon Senate seat that is now held by Wayne Morse, the maverick Republican who now sits on the opposite side of the Senate chamber. Mr. Morse has filed for re-election on the Democratic ticket. And Secretary win control of the Senate. It counts of the Interior Douglas McKay has entered his name for the COP nomination.

Senator Morse is a Sandy Saddler kind of campaigner who throws lots of leather and lets the blows fall where they may. McKay was formerly Governor of Oregon, and resigned, at the plea of President Eisenhower to take a Cabinet post.

He was a popular Governor in a normally Republican state. And he can handle himself well with any kind of opponent - even the roughhouse Morse McKay, so far has opposition in the primary. But there is every reason to believe that he can win the GOP nomination hands down. The President has openly endorsed him.

The entire nation will watch this senatorial race if McKay and Morse are horns there, the nation as well as Orepitted against each other this fall. The Republicans are counting strongly on on one of the major questions of policy.

Monday Holidays (Hemet News)

Representative Henry J. Latham Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Christ-(Rep., N.Y.) has introduced a bill designating the nearest Monday to the calendar date for the observance of Washington's birthday, Memorial Day, Independence Day and Armistice Day. The idea is to create long weekends for the four holidays and lessen the business disruption caused when they fall in midweek.

The "Monday holiday" proposal is a modest calendar reform and has won considerable backing. The other federal "legal public holidays" are New Year's, take a while.

mas. Labor Day is always celebrated on Monday and Thanksgiving might reasonably be changed to Mondays. There are, of course, no national holidays and Mr. Latham's legislation would apply only to federal employees and the District of Columbia. It might influence the states but would not be binding on them. Monday holidays can't become a reality until all the state legislatures accept the idea and that may

NEW YORK (F) - Ben Hogan the bantam battler from Dublin Tex., has completely dominate the sports scene in the past 10

What brings this to mind is a poll being conducted by Sport Magazine on its 10th anniversary, to determine the hot shots in various sports. It also asks for the decade's top comeback, upset, story, team and man.

Hogan, regarded by some as the greatest golfer of all time, wins on four counts.

Certainly he is that era's top golfer. His comeback was the greatest as well as the top story, considering that he won three Opens after a near-fatal auto accident and made a sweep of the U.S. and British Opens plus the Masters in 1953. What else is needed to be sports' man of the dec-

"COAT HANGER FOR MAN WITH A CHIP ON HIS SHOULDER"

Since this Droodle is connected with the subject of clothing I thought it might be a good idea if passed on a few sartorial hints to you fellows who don't have the knack of always looking well dressed as I do. First if you don't want to be frowned on in polite society always make sure your spats match your beret. And rub plenty of chicken fat into your leather jacket so it looks soft and shiny. Above all, never wear a light colored sweatshirt with dark dungarees and keep your motor cycle boots polished at all times. And remember, only real he-man types can wear torn T-shirts so if you have any throw them away. Or send them to Marlon or me.

City to Sue Over Districting Case

The Desert Sun

City Attorney Jerry Bunker is preparing a suit for damages against three Palm Springs men who lost their fight to have councilmanic districts redefined.

Bunker yesterday said he will file the suit to recover $126.13, against Willard McKinney, Herbert Hass and David Dunsworth, through their attorney Leonard Bock. He asserted that $18.70 was spent by the city clerk in prepar-ing an appeal brief, and $107.43 to print copies.

James Berger, deputy county clerk, informed Bunker that Palm Springs could file suit against the Villagers since the State Supreme Court had denied Bock a hearing after the Fourth Court of Appeals denied Bock's contention that a majority vote favoring redistricting was an indication that the pre-cincts should be redefined.
